Your Guarantee

Every installation of a new garage door is guaranteed against defective materials or faulty workmanship for a period of 2 years subject to reasonable use, and regular maintenance, which includes oiling of all moving parts.

Electric motors are guaranteed for the same period, except for adjustments in sensitivity.

Spare parts, and Motorheads are guaranteed for 6 months only.

The guarantee period commences from date of installation, so please keep your invoice safely. If your door has been fitted via a builder you will need to contact them initially with any problems.

The door/operator manufacturer may also offer a warranty in addition to our guarantee, which is specific for their product. If so, this will cover the safe and reliable function of the product and is limited to defects attributable to a material or manufacturing fault.
